DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1 – 34 are pending.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 1 - 34 allowed.

Reasons for Allowance

3. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

4. In reference to claims 1, 14, 20 and 26:

5. Chi U.S. Patent No. (6,006,329), discloses a method for detecting a computer virus in a data stream comprising:

- Scanning the data stream to detect at least one virus (Chi, Col. 2 Lines 36 – 50).

6. Chi, fails to teach the limitations of estimating a time period required to scan the data stream and transmitting the data stream without the scanning if the estimated scan time period exceeds the maximum scan time period.

7. Each independent claim identifies the distinct feature of transmitting the data stream without the scanning if the estimated scan time period exceeds the maximum scan time period. The closest prior art, Chi U.S. Patent No. (6,006,329) and teaches the scanning of data streams for viruses in the stream. The cited prior art fails to teach transmitting the data stream without the scanning if the estimated scan time period exceeds the maximum scan time period and thus fails to anticipate or render the above limitations obvious.

8. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

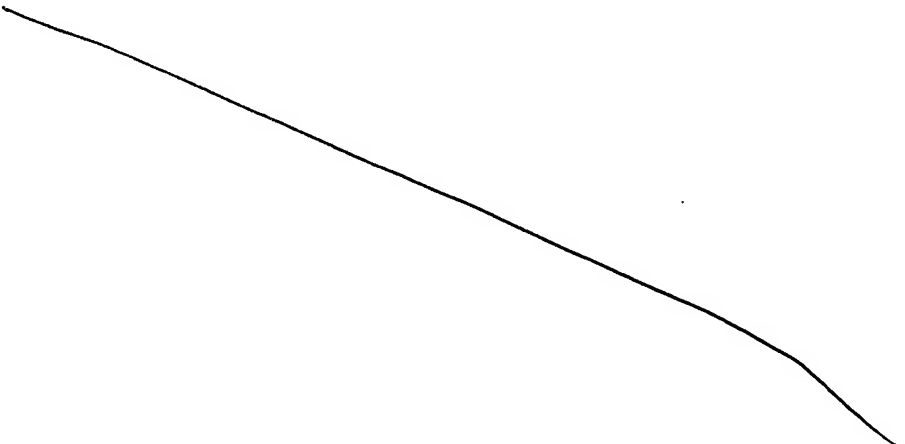

Conclusion

9. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

10. Kumpf et al. U.S. Patent No. (6,412,022) discloses a time-out period to prevent the scan peripheral from being tied up too long.
